Summer cottage and nature

Jenny has introduced Craig to her home farm and the forest. It is now time to go to Jenny's little summer cottage near a lake. It is on the farm. They reach the summer cottage after going down a hill. Craig is surprised!

- Craig: You are right. It is so much nicer here than in the city! The air is fresher, the people are more relaxed and the scenery is breathtaking. Although my studio is closer to everything, here in the countryside I feel freer! And this cottage is the coziest place I have seen, is it yours?
- Jenny: Actually, my parents are half-Finns! In Finland almost everyone owns a little summer cottage by a lake. Or if they don't have one, they might rent one for the summer. They go there to swim, have a sauna and relax. This is why my parents decided to build a summer cottage right here.
- Craig: Wow! I didn't know that! Do you come here regularly?
- Jenny: Yes I do. That little garden back there is actually mine! I take care of it. And all those flowers are mine, too. I planted them and water them. The weather has been great and the flowers have grown fast. There is a small room with a sofa bed in the cottage. Sometimes I sleep there.
- Craig: It is as beautiful here as in my favourite park in the city. Is it hot in the sauna?
- Jenny: Of course it is! Do you want to try it?
- Jenny takes Craig to the sauna. They sit in a very hot room and when it gets too hot, they go for a swim in the lake. It is a beautiful summer day and the water is cool. After the sauna, it is time to go home.
- Jenny: Thank you for coming! It has been a wonderful day! I wish you could visit us more often!
- Craig: Thank you for having me! This is a beautiful farm and it has interesting stories. Should we meet tomorrow and discuss our day?
- Jenny: Yes, let's do that! I will send you an email today, I just remembered this article about ecotourism that you should read.
- Craig: Great! See you tomorrow!
