

Compare the text below with the text even further below and find the differences. There are 10 of them.

How to learn a new language

- 1 Learn new words. You cannot say much if you don't know enough words.
- 2 Practise regularly – every day if possible. Learning to use a language requires a lot of repetition.
- 3 Talk with a native speaker. Try to make a friend who speaks the language as their native language. You will learn to use the language naturally in everyday situations.
- 4 Expose yourself to the language. Read blogs, books, magazines or newspapers. Listen to music or podcasts. Watch TV shows or movies (without subtitles).
- 5 Attend a language course. Educated teachers can help you learn the difficult parts of the language and you also get to practise the language in versatile exercises.

How to learn a new language

1. Learn new words. You cannot say much if you don't have enough ~~money.~~ words
2. Practise regularly – every year if possible. Learning to use a language requires a lot of recycling.
3. Talk with a native American. Try to make a friend who speaks the language as their native language. You will learn to use the language quickly in everyday situations.
4. Expose your mother to the language. Read blogs, books, magazines or newspapers. Listen to music or weather forecasts. Watch TV or movies (on Netflix).
5. Attend a cooking course. Educated teachers can help you learn the easy parts of the language and you also get to practise dancing in versatile exercises.

Match the words on the left with their correct explanations on the right.

- | | |
|--------------------|--|
| 1. attend | ___ the language that you learn as a baby, your first and strongest language |
| 2. educated | ___ to be in the habit of doing something often or at certain intervals |
| 3. expose | ___ somebody who has studied a great deal |
| 4. native language | ___ a person who speaks a language as their first language |
| 5. native speaker | ___ to make somebody experience something they might not be familiar with |
| 6. regularly | ___ a translation or a text at the bottom of a screen in movies or TV shows |
| 7. subtitles | ___ able to adapt to many different kinds of situations, flexible |
| 8. versatile | ___ to go to a place, like a school or event, in order to be present |