

A still life scene set on a white tablecloth with a floral pattern. In the center is a white bucket with a white ribbon tied around it, overflowing with a bouquet of flowers including pink, orange, and yellow roses and smaller white and yellow blossoms. To the right of the bucket is a green ceramic mug. In front of the mug are several lemons, including one whole and two sliced. To the left of the bucket is a large, pink, multi-petaled flower. In the background, a small yellow jar with a silver spoon is visible. The scene is set outdoors with a blurred green background and bright sunlight creating a lens flare effect in the upper left corner.
