DIDACTIC PLAN

TASK: WHAT IS THE SUITABLE JOB FOR ME..?

AIMS:

- To raise ideas and thoughts in student's mind toward the personality characters that are needed in different jobs.
- Give students time to consider their strengths, skills and hobbies in order to find new ideas for suitable jobs.

CONTENT AND TIMING OF THIS TASK:

1. First introduce the task (Annex I). Tell about orientation codes R, S, I, E, A and C, in order to give a general view for the task for the students.
2. Every student does the task by themselves. They just concentrate in their own thoughts and skills etc. Give enough time (minimum 30 minutes) so that students are able to raise new ideas and thoughts of themselves.
3. Then form small groups of students, 4-5 students in same group.
4. In the groups: a) everyone draws their own web (in the last page of the task), where they visualise their top 3 orientation codes! b) then they read through (together) all the orientation types (Annex II) and c) they will give ideas to each others for which jobs would be the best for each student.

Please notice, that there should be time for personal discussion with every student after this task. Only via personal discussion the result of this task would be efficient!

MATERIALS:

The task have to be copied for everyone in advance. Copy Annex II: one copy for each group.

Write down the numbers of yes answers in the chart below. Then calculate the total points for each personality type.

- Hobbies
- Skills
- Professional interest
- Total

| R | I | A | S | E | C |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | | | |
| | | | | | |
| | | | | | |
| R | I | A | S | E | C |

Take the three interests that got the most points and place them in order from biggest to smallest. You will get your orientation code.

My orientation code: _____

1. 2. 3.

R = practical

I = scientific

A = artistic

S = social

E = entrepreneurial

C = conventional

The interpretation of "the test" (come and see your student counsellor):

Your own opinion of the result – does it apply to you?

Read the descriptions of the personality types. Place yourself on the line according to how well the description matches your personality.

not at all

completely

A An artistic type is expressive, creative, original and self-centred. He/She appreciates loose, quite undefined, creative tasks and professions, and wants to avoid tasks that are strictly controlled.

C A conventional and organized type is interested in clear and organized tasks which include, for example, professions in the field of computers and business. He/She is practical, persevering, persistent, conscientious and effective.

S A social type is interested in working with people, taking care of them, helping, raising and teaching. He/She is helpful, cooperative, social and responsible. He/She avoids scientific and technological problems and tasks.

E An entrepreneurial type strives to influence and lead. He/She is oriented towards commercial, informing, organizing and leading positions. He/She is talkative, brave, active, social and eye-catching. He/She values power and money.

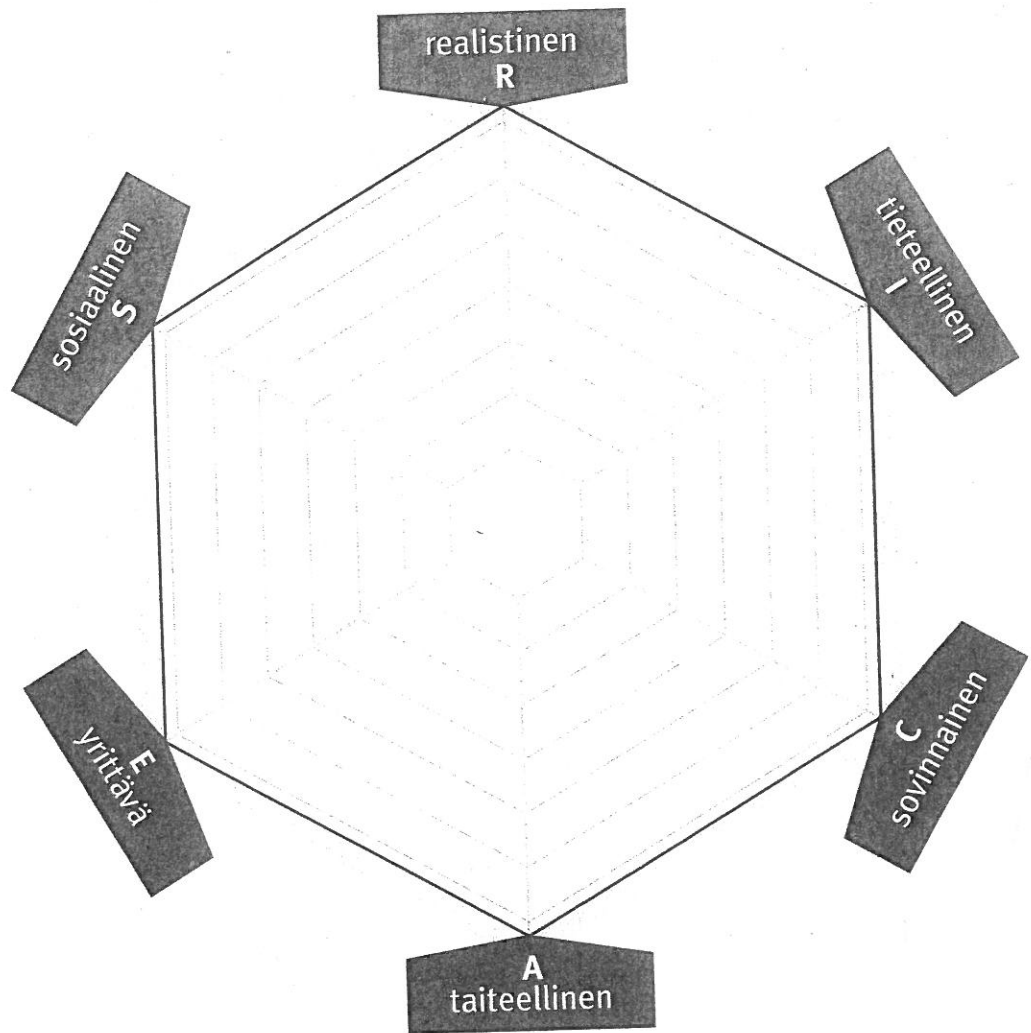

R A realistic type is interested in concrete action, working with tools and technology, and in visible results of the work. He/She is practical, adaptive and persistent, and doesn't like working with people. He/She values money and wealth.

I A scientific type is oriented towards observing, studying, pondering and explaining things and phenomena. He/She is intellectual, independent, analytical, organized, precise, and doesn't necessarily like to be around people.

You can draw your own type in the following model by marking the points you got for each section with a cross, connecting them with a line, and colouring the area that's left inside the pattern.

S social
R realistic
I scientific
C conventional
A artistic
E entrepreneurial
