1. She has always liked trees, and she was also literally climbing into trees.
2. The Gija believed that the tree was alive, almost like a person. So they sang to it so that it would feel happy and comfortable in its new home.
3. Because if too many people came to see the tree, it might be damaged.
4. Because the tree doesn't seem to have any flowers.
5. Without wood, we would not have built ships. Without ships, we would not have sailed around the world, and America, Africa, Australia, for example, would not have been colonised.
