Where I live, in Dabas we can choose from two foreign languages English or German. I started with English in 3rd grade of primary school and started learning German in high school.

In my few, we got really good base to improve our skills and it was the same in high school too. I enjoyed grammar and culture lessons. The teacher were understandable and helpful and made the lessons so cool (with videos or communicative parts). We got exactly what we wanted.... cool lessons and knowledge not just for the papers but for life too.

When I had my first German lesson I was like a small kid but then I came back to the earth. In Hungary it's not the best. Mostly it depends on the teachers and I'm sure they try to do their best. Unfortunately the lessons are boring and we don't really practice oral parts just reading ,writing and listening parts. I agree, that school need to improve and I hope they will soon.

I think learning moreover teaching a language is a good thing, that's why I'm gonna learn a third or maybe a fourth foreign language too. I'd like to learn French and Dutch.

A few tips: Learn as many languages as you can!!

I like leaning with music and with technical things like a laptop(videos...)
