1. Grandpa Tom had been a popular man in his youth.
2. He had had several girls chasing after him. Or that's what he says.
3. One day he had been walking home from his office when he had heard a scream.
4. That scream had come from Grandma Millie.
5. She had been gardening when she had seen a rat in her backyard.
6. Grandma had nearly fainted at the sight of the rat.
7. So, just like a knight in shining armour, Grandpa had run to the rescue.
8. He had chased the rat away with a broom. And the rest, as they say, is history.
9. Later the rat had become something of an inside joke for Millie and Tom.
10. That's why Tom had taken it as a compliment whenever Millie had called him one.
11. Hadn't they even been considering calling their first born Rat?
12. Lucky for my Dad, they hadn't done it.
