A few years ago, I fell in love with D. Gilmour's music / the music of D.G.

At the time I didn't believe in myself very much, so I only dreamt/dreamed about learning to play.

Then, a friend of mine finally told me to do something about it.

And like thousands of young people in the world, I picked up the guitar for the first time.

Now I play/practise (for) many hours/hours and hours a day and I love it!
