

Character Finder

Your role is to tell your group about the characters in the story. You have to choose a character from the story. Make sure that no one else in your group has chosen him or her yet. Describe (this means that you should be writing) what they look like, their personalities and anything else that you know about them. If you have met them before, write about what you have just found out about them. Use full sentences. If you wish to draw the character, you may, but this should only be small and as an addition to your text.
