

Tehtävä 13a

1. Teenagers need financial education so that they learn to manage their finances.
2. Teenagers learn about the value of a dollar when they work.
3. You can ask your parents to pay for academic results.
4. Earning money also teaches you how to manage money.
5. When you are frugal, it doesn't mean that you're a miser.
6. Don't buy the product you want from the first store but check the prices from other stores, too.
7. When you pay more for the same product you aren't only wasting money, you're also wasting your time.
8. Credit cards are dangerous because they tempt you to spend what you don't have.
9. However, credit cards are a good thing when you handle them responsibly.
10. When you learn how to budget, you learn to plan your spending.
11. If you learn to budget as a teenager, you will never feel lost with your finances.
12. Parental advice is important since they have learned to manage money.
13. Your parents have learned what their priorities are and how to allocate money.