Where is our focus? Is it on digital learning or empowering youth?

Empowerment of youth

Why is this our goal?

The starting point of the project was: Our worry about how youth cope in this media world. Do they too easily trust unreliable sources.

And: our pedagogical method of phenomenon based learning leads towards this goal.

How do we evaluate this empowerment? Can it be seen or heard and what must happen for it to be seen?

First: we must approach the youngsters' world, to study familiar and interesting things in their world. We must find phenomena that are locally and world wide known at the same time.

Second: By doing things by using our tools: writing, making videos, taking photos, making stories and reports on things that matter to us.

Third: to evaluate what we have done by using reflective methods such as portfolio. This makes thinking more mature and persons understand what they have learned and rise on a new level.

Activities of LTT's are not fully consistent with all project goals? The role of the Finnish school is stronger than that of the others in the application.

How do we react to this? We must make sure that we all fully understand what the goal is and how we get there? All partners must take care that we keep our goal in mind. We must plan LTT's carefully to achieve our goal.

Dissemination is too focused in Finland?

How will other partners spread the learned ? Plan concrete actions !

Quality of project team and communication

Right persons in the right place. Choose your team right. We must take care that we pass on what we have learned to all those who work on the project. Keep in contact with the Coordinator of this project. Reply our emails at least in some way. If you have trouble with answering mails, you can always call us. Use all possible forms of communication. I would appreciate even a small message...

We ask you to be in regularly touch with Marjo. What is regular? We can discuss about this? Once a month..

Before LTT's and trips early enough, specially if there is some changes. Inviting partner is responsible to send the information early to all partners.

This is the most important
'homecoming gift'
that everyone has
to remember.

“This is super-important”

- We are all in this together, each of us is responsible for what happens!

Thanks!
